RUSSIAN VICTORY IN BUKOWINA

REJECTS ITALIAN DEMANDS

MACLEOD EXPECTS 'L' ACTION

OFFICIAL LIST OF MEN ABOARD SUBMARINE F-4

FEAR WEN MAY NOT SURVIVE PRESSURE

PETROGRAD, March 26.—Austrian troops have evacuated Czernowitz, the capital of Bukovina, and are in full retreat from that province to Hungary, according to advices received by the Russian War Office today.

MEHLIN, via Amsterdam, March 24.—Prince Joachim, youngest son of Emperor William, and the German forces that drove the Russians out of Melmel, East Prussia, it was stated at the War Office today. He has been awarded the Iron cross.

ROME, March 26.—Negotiations for the cession of Austrian territory to Italy are reported to have been broken off and Italian intervention in the war is believed to be imminent.

When the woman was in the street, she was seen to be in a state of alarm, and she was seen to be in a state of alarm, and she was seen to be in a state of alarm.

With railroad and railway fares jumping in every part of Massachusetts, the most serious threat to Boston itself was made today when Chairman Frederick J. Macleod of the Public Service Commission admitted that it is evident that the Boston Elevated will soon ask for power to establish a six-cent fare.

According to the records of the Navy Department, taken on March 7, there were nineteen men on board the F-4, the submarine which was sunk off Honolulu. The official list which makes no mention of the F-4's commander, Lieutenant Alfred L. Ede, age twenty-seven, of Nevada is as follows:

HONOLULU, March 26.—Hope that the American submarine F-4, which sank off Honolulu yesterday, might be brought to the surface and her crew of twenty-five men saved from death, was revived early today when the government tug Navajo reported that it had hooked the submarine with its grappling irons. The other ships in the little fleet trying to save the submarine hastened to aid in pulling the F-4 to the surface.

These state that the Russian troops defeated their foe in a three-day battle on the Dniestr River, and that when the Austrians retreated they were pursued with vigor.

Though the troops led by the Prince were outnumbered by the Russians, he ordered an immediate attack when confronted by the enemy south of Melmel and personally led the charge that resulted in the Russians falling back into Melmel.

The fighting in the town itself lasted five hours, the Russians harrying themselves in the houses in the northern part of the town. As their machine guns controlled the streets leading to this district the Germans were compelled to advance under heavy fire.

A woman's skirt has been tried by the woman wearer—as a means of fighting the flames, and the skirt made good.

There is an unrecurrent feeling that the Boston Elevated may soon ask some increase in fare," said Chairman Macleod.

According to the records of the Navy Department, taken on March 7, there were nineteen men on board the F-4, the submarine which was sunk off Honolulu. The official list which makes no mention of the F-4's commander, Lieutenant Alfred L. Ede, age twenty-seven, of Nevada is as follows:

With every passing hour lessening the chances for the rescue of the crew of the American submarine F-4, which lay on the bottom of the Pacific two miles off Honolulu harbor, a fleet of three other submarines and five steamers worked desperately all night to attack grappling irons to the sunken vessel, which was the victim of the first American submarine disaster.

Russian military experts, commenting upon the evacuation of Czernowitz by the Austrians, asserted today that this means that the enemy has been flanked and in addition to abandoning Bukovina will have to retire from positions north of Jaborinka Pass, thus leaving the way open for a general Russian advance into Hungary through the Carpathians.

Stocks were firmer at the opening, the reactionary tendency which developed yesterday afternoon not being in evidence. A number of leaders were in demand and gains were the rule. Reading was a prominent feature in New York. The offerings of New Haven were small. February earnings of Atchafalaya were reflected in its rise. Sentiment was sanguine and most traders appeared to think that the market is on the upgrade.

Officially, nothing has been made known of the policy of the government, beyond the reiterated announcement that Italy must be prepared for eventualities.

Man Fined $50 for Illegal Wiring

Threatened With Fate of Hillman

That at least part of the Russian troops freed of aggressive action by the fall of Przemyśl have already joined the Carpathian army is shown by the announcement of a victory over the Austrians at Lopuszka Pass with the capture of nearly 8,000 prisoners.

Atchafalaya was off at 42 1/2. In New York at the opening Atchafalaya was off at 42 1/2. In New York at the opening Atchafalaya was off at 42 1/2.

But the military preparations have been on a most extensive scale, and if a blow is to be struck both army and navy are in a position to strike quickly.

MacLeod expects 'L' action.

MAYO IS MUM ON SUIT FOR DIVORCE

NEW HAVEN, March 25.—Virginia J. Mayo absolutely refused today to discuss the report that Mrs. Florence Weeks Mayo of Stratford had brought suit against him for divorce.

"I know nothing about this matter. No papers have been served on me and I haven't heard of any action," he said.

When asked if he would defend the suit, Mr. Mayo refused to discuss the case further in any way. News of the suit by Mrs. Mayo came in a despatch from Stratford that counsel for the woman had filed a suit for divorce against the New Haven manufacturer, who recently came into public notice through the death of Lillian Cook, his strong righter.

The papers represent that Florence W. Mayo and Virginia J. Mayo have been man and wife since May 14, 1910. In December, 1913, Mayo is charged with "wilfully and maliciously deserting and abetting himself" from the obligations of this kind, and without any just or reasonable cause, and hath harbored, protected and aided himself from said desertion and still does continue absent himself from said defendant.

The writ is made returnable April 26. It is understood that a petition for alimony and counsel fees will follow in a few days.

The action brought by Samantha M. Walters, a former stenographer, against the Mayos for the support of her daughter is scheduled for a hearing Saturday morning. Justice Land said today: "This case will surely be tried Saturday. I will not consent to another continuance."

Grass Fires Imperil Cottages at Quincy

Night grass fires in different sections of Quincy kept the firemen busy all night. At 11 o'clock, a fire broke out at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. West, near the depot. The fire was quickly extinguished. At 12 o'clock, a fire broke out at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. West, near the depot. The fire was quickly extinguished.

The fire department has answered 150 alarms since the first of the month.

Several Passengers Hurt on the B. & O.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., March 25.—Several passengers were injured when passenger train No. 57 west-bound on the main line of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad was sidetracked by a freight at Williams station, near Myerstown, today. Among the injured were Mrs. J. H. White of Pittsburgh and Mrs. Ethel Simpson, of Baltimore.

Milton Man Dies in French Hospital

News of the death of Edward Mandell Stone, Harvard '94, who enlisted in the Second Regiment of the Foreign Legion of France at the outbreak of the war, has been received by his sister, Miss Elizabeth Stone of Brook Hill, Milton. The message said he died at a hospital in Remilly, France, February 27.

Tolstoi's Works Given to Museum

LONDON, March 24.—The Times announced that the litigation to decide the ownership of Tolstoi's manuscripts has just ended with the Russian Senate's final decision in favor of Tolstoi's widow, who thereupon presented the collection of manuscripts, a certificate held in the Moscow Hermitage Museum as a free gift to the Hermitage Museum of Moscow, February 27.

Russia Victory in Bukovina Reported

LONDON, March 24.—Bucharest reports state the Russians have won a great victory on the Austrian extreme right in Bukovina. It is thought here the Russians with new forces turned the Austrian right and reached the Sereth River, it getting behind the Austrian army, operating around Chernovitz, the Bukovinian capital.

NEW YORK, March 26.—Richard S. Darling, secretary and president of the New York State Furs Company, was placed on trial today in County Judge Platt, at White Plains, New York, on a charge of white slavery under the New York statute.

The prosecuting witness is Robert E. Darling, a member of New York who claims Mrs. Shaw's affection as "sister" by young Darling, Mrs. Shaw's daughter, and the daughter of the late Mr. E. D. Shaw, a wealthy Chicago business man.

Richard S. Darling is the twenty-four-year-old son of William A. Darling, a real estate broker, well known in New York society. The charge upon which he is being tried is the result of a trip to the Gedney Farm Hotel, Westchester County, in company with Mrs. Shaw, Mrs. E. D. Shaw, Watson, a friend of the family, and her revelations of the unhappiness in the New home.

Mrs. Adelaide Shaw, mother of the prosecuting witness, said her son and his wife were very happy until Darling came to New York.

NEW YORK, March 26.—Inspired by a dream five years ago which revealed to her that she was a battlefield nurse, Miss Anna Peck, of Johnsburg, Vt., is on the way to Europe today on the Fabre line ship, Patria. She will go to the Franco-Erase Hospital at Pau and offer her services to the wounded.

Miss Peck is the daughter of New York Hospital Training School for Nurses in this city. She says that one night five years ago she had a dream that carried her to a battlefield among the wounded and dying. From the midst of this scene her life's work seemed plainly cut out for her.

A friend of the young lady's said that Miss Peck might possibly find her chance on the battlefield. The same friend said that such had been the worst of this wonderful dream that it led this nurse to the hospital.

NEW YORK, March 26.—That the Cape Colony is under martial law and that an uprising against the Boers is only prevented by lack of arms and ammunition among the disgruntled Boers, is the statement of William Karsten, a native of Krugersdorp, Transvaal.

"The whole northernmost section of the cape provinces is fermenting with unrest," Mr. Karsten declared. "For that matter all the Boers are against Enkland in their hearts. They will forget what Great Britain did to them during the Boer war. They are waiting for a chance to square

NAN YAN-ANCIENCO, March 26.—One of the largest crowds yet seen at the Panama-Pacific Exposition thronged the grounds yesterday. Registered from Massachusetts were: Miss Sadie E. Foster, H. Foster, H. When Louis Oliver of Boston came to board with the family of Mrs. James Watkins in Brooklyn, two months ago, he brought with him the sixteen-year-old daughter of Mrs. Watkins, most entertaining, New York dispatches today say.

When her boarder and daughter disappeared Monday, Mrs. Watkins went to the nearest post office and sent a letter to her mother in New York.

Mrs. Watkins has just received a letter from Boston, which reads:

Dear Mother—Will be home in about a week with my husband. Don't worry. I know I am young, but not too young to know what real love is. I am bold, brave and want the blessing of you and father.

ENROLL TODAY IN CONTEST FOR GREAT TOURS TO THE FAIR

AMERICAN. Always for all the people. The contest is for the first vote coupon in its great exposition contest. You know the value of getting an early start, of course. You have heard the story of the early bird that got on the morning job before the sun was up and found the food. You have doubtless also heard the saying about beginning with a beginning early.

Begin now and persevere. Let Patient, Persistent, Progressive Perseverance be your slogan. But start NOW.

Read the big advertisement of the Contest offer and its opportunity in today's AMERICAN. Read every word carefully. You will find the Enrollment Ballot which when properly filled in and sent to the Boston AMERICAN Exposition Contest Editor makes you a contestant and credits you with one thousand votes. Don't delay in filling this out. Do so immediately and send it to the Contest Editor at once.

This done, you will be prepared for the first vote coupon tomorrow. You know how a good general marshals his army before he starts his fighting. You can take a tip from the strategy. Marshal your friends to your aid, ask them to save the vote coupons from the ship and Sunday AMERICAN for you.

Remember your slogan and persevere consistently. Fight hard, never wear faint, and you must have your army of friends working. You must work yourself—and make them adopt your slogan and have them enlist their own friends in your behalf.

Think of the result! It isn't hard. It's easy, and think of the real joy you will get out of the competition! Not are the conditions hard, on the contrary, they are as simple as can be. Read the big advertisement, and see. Enroll NOW. That means TODAY.

Describes Trip Through Zone at Big Exposition in San Francisco.

By SKINNY SHANER.

Tom McManara. You know "Winkie" doesn't? He's the San Francisco slick when I got acquainted with the other guy. Well, he and him, meaning "Winkie," has been having a dance of a time on the Zone. The Zone is where all the shows is. Gosh, what a mob of them! I got passes to each one, and I take "Winkie" with me just for fun. Know what "Winkie" says? He says he don't like to get in free to show thru the front gate, where every body can see him; he likes to sneak in the back way, or some place like that, but he can't find no back ways to these here shows on the Zone, so he has to go in the front way, even if he like it or not. Poor "Winkie," he has a pretty soft life, believe me. Gee, I don't know how to get started blawing about me and "Winkie" went on the level I don't. There's so blamed many sumthing shows that each one is just as good as the other, and I'm a guest. I oughter tell when one I like best, but all right, I'm gonna think a while. Oh, gosh, I can't pick the best one out, and "Winkie" thinks the best dog stands in the best, so you see what a louse I am. I'm inside of.

PANAMA CANAL A PIPPIN. However, I'ma tella about the Panama Canal. Gee, what a pippin that there is! It's about as big as a whole hog. It's just like the Panama Canal, which is in Panama, real water and everything, on the level. Listen. You go up into a big house and look down from a kinda gallery and see the canal. Then you sit in a chair which keeps movin' all around the gallery. Then you stick a thing in each of your ears and look and listen.

By the time you are around to where you started from you know all about the canal, from soup to toothpicks, because a photograph has went and told you every one of them the same time you was seeing with your eyes. Ain't that wonderful?

Oh, gosh, I can't explain it; you better go yourself. Gosh, now you'll be sorry if you don't.

GET A GOLD NUGGET. Here's some good. I discovered a gold nugget in some sand in the '48 camp—on the level I did. Ask "Winkie."

I settled a pan and scooped up some sand in it and rummed some water over the sand, and wiggle it around while in the pan, and pulled out a little piece of gold, which a man way out and slipped me two bucks.

Right away "Winkie" borrowed it from me and treated me to hot dogs and ice cream, and candy, and popcorn, and flags and cans, and oranges and waffles and, oh, gosh, I dunno what we had after that! All I know is that "Winkie" shouted the hole to back.

Then we went for a ride on the safety coaster, and, gosh, we both got kinda sleepy like and he said that "Winkie" had to go home to supper, but nevertheless I know a lot more shows which we seen before that, and I would like you about them if I had more get switched off the track by the gold nugget.

You know how it is. Oh, well, you can tell all what's going on. I'll apout some more in a day or two. Stick around.

How many have "Acid-Mouth"? You need only look at these figures—ninety out of every hundred people have "Acid-Mouth"—to realize that "Acid-Mouth" is no "will-o'-the-wisp" but a very present and very real force which must be reckoned with if you hope to save your teeth.

"Pebeco puts me to 'T'." Natoli pants drives out lingering sleep-tan as quickly as thoroughly. I like Pebeco because it's unswerving, has a keen "tingle" and refreshes my whole mouth.

Do you realize that "Acid-Mouth" causes more tooth decay than all other causes put together? That by checking "Acid-Mouth"

Pebeco Tooth Paste goes a great way in helping you save your teeth? In fairness to your good looks, your personal health, you cannot afford to ignore the dangerous presence of "Acid-Mouth." No, you can't afford to.

Why not use Pebeco every morning and night and by so doing reduce to a minimum the chances of "Acid-Mouth" eating its way into the enamel of your teeth?

Birds That Really Propose

The Penguin Is Probably the Oddest-Mannered Member of the Feathered Tribes

The penguin is like no other in dress coats as they solely parade on the shores of Antarctic Seas.

Accord by the penguin

It is no wonder that some of the rarest birds in the South Seas are found in the South Seas. In fact, it is a strange fact that the penguin is found on the southern coast of South America, especially around the Cape Horn and on the scattered islands of the South Pacific, and when seen from a ship approaching the land, it is always mistaken for other birds of the same species, and is often mistaken for a penguin.

It is a fact that the penguin is a very odd bird. It is a bird that is found in the South Seas, and it is a bird that is found in the South Seas. It is a bird that is found in the South Seas, and it is a bird that is found in the South Seas.

Fewskalds - I tell you frankly that I shall not be able to pay for this suit until next year.

Teller - All right, sir.

Fewskalds - When will it be ready?

Teller - Next year.

The stout party had been in the boot shop for over an hour, and the patient shop assistant had had half the stock down for her inspection.

She found fault with them all, until his patience became quite exhausted.

"This would suit you," he said, taking another pair down as a last resource. Still the lady was not satisfied.

"I don't like this sort," she said, taking a pair down and looking at it.

"Well, madam," retorted the exasperated assistant, "get the example."

GIVE UP HUNT FOR SLAIN MAN'S GEMS

After drawing for five hours the photo of late Sheriff, the Waverley police have given up their search for the slayer of the slain man's gems. The slayer, a Lawrence Jewell, who was murdered on March 15, 1914, is still at large. The police have been informed as to where the slayer was hidden, or someone has already found it.

It is believed that the slayer, who is serving a life term for a murder, was taken from the prison to the lake two weeks ago and pointed out the spot where he would be killed. He threw the box of jewelry into the water. He said he got rid of the loot the day after the murder, because he feared he was suspected and wanted to avoid all evidence.

VICE-PRESIDENT MARSHALL'S EXPOSITION MESSAGE TO THE NATION

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 26.—The Vice-President of the United States, after spending five days at the Exposition, indicated the following message to the people of the nation containing his appreciation of the great fair.

The stages of a life seem to have been marked by national expositions. My young manhood began with the Centennial. Maturity was marked by the Columbian and the Louisiana Purchase. Now the sunset years bring me to this marvel of the republic upon the shores of the great west.

So often have I thought that I saw pillars of Hercules inscribed with their "Ne plus ultra" that I hesitate to say that I have reached them. But they who built this Panama Pacific Exposition were no wise in adopting all the good features and avoiding those which marred the preceding ones that to me it seems as near perfection as the mind and hand of man has ever wrought.

Whoever can, even at a sacrifice of something else, for the moment appears necessary should come to see a real work of art never equalled even at a distance.

If there be any one in America with a thirst for knowledge and for beauty and a longing for a liberal education, such a one can here obtain it.

This is the university of the world. It has a chair fully endowed to meet the wants and needs of man. The eye, the ear, the mind, the heart, the soul, each may have its lesson here enlarged.

I am proud to become a student. I hope the rest of the world will do so.

COURT DENIES NEW TRIAL TO WAITT

The court today denied a new trial to Waitt, who was convicted of the murder of a woman. The court held that the evidence was sufficient to support the verdict. The case was argued by counsel for both sides, but the court found no error in the trial proceedings.

Now We Pry the Lid Off Spring And Invite You to the Feast of Good Things We've Prepared

But first we extend a sincere "Thank You" to our countless friends, both old and new, whose knowledge and appreciation of our greater value-giving and our better way of selling better clothes enabled us to record such a remarkable volume of business during the season just past.

It is pleasant to know that the principles first adopted for the guidance of our business have never require changing in any essential detail, but, amplified by time, growth and experience, still serve to maintain and increase our prestige in this community.

Those time-tried principles, among which better values and better, more intelligent service stand forth most prominently, are the only old things which we have carried over from previous seasons to the present. Our stock, the whole store over, is absolutely new.

As usual, we offer you this season the best efforts of America's best tailors—a stock which includes all the authentic styles in the most beautiful, desirable and dependable fabrics, at prices made remarkably low by our big buying, cash selling and low expense.

Kuppenheimer Clothes for Spring

That we have made a specialty of Kuppenheimer Clothes for so many years under our all-embracing guarantee of satisfaction speaks volumes for the high quality of these fine garments. The House of Kuppenheimer is the fastest growing and most progressive tailoring concern in the country, and this progressiveness is reflected in the beauty of the patterns, the perfection of the tailoring and the clean-cut lines of their new Spring Models. Great quantities of Kuppenheimer Spring Suits and Overcoats are here, ready for your inspection and selection.

TAPER CROWNS

The New Smart Derby Style for Spring

Taper crowns will again be very popular in derbies for

The Truly Warner Derbies, the El Dorado, and On Time, are made with a graceful taper, back and front, and a decided set to the brim. It's the even balance that helps to make these new hats so desirable.

Another exclusive feature is their light weight and flexibility.
